Appreciation

The Class of 1990 would like to express sincere thanks to our class advisors, Mrs. Elizabeth Leonard and Miss Mary Lou Lordan. During our freshman year, our class was certainly at a loss. Slow to become adjusted to a new school like most ninth graders, we had the additional burden of not having a teacher to advise us. Thankfully, at the beginning of our sophomore year, Mrs. Leonard became our advisor. Miss Lordan "joined" our class last year, shortly after moving over from the middle school.

Throughout this time, Miss Lordan and Mrs. Leonard have diligently worked for our class. Among other things, they made the junior prom an actuality and carefully organized fundraisers for us; but most importantly, with thier perpetual attention and guidance, they brought us closer together as a class. Without their help, we surely would not be where we are today.

We are very proud to have had these two wonderful teachers as part of our class, and they will always be remembered as one of the "highlites" of our school years.

Dedication

The Class of 1990 wishes to dedicate this yearbook to Frank Annaldo, a very special man who has made a permanent mark on Littleton High School. Throughout twenty-nine years of his teaching social studies in Littleton, the students and faculty with whom he has worked have learned from him the meaning of commitment, love, and humor.

Mr. Annaldo has had an undeniable influence as a classroom teacher. His love of learning and his subject matter have been clearly evident in his teaching. Being a student in Frank Annaldo's class has meant lively, intense discussions balanced with humor. His booming voice clearly delivered his expectations for students to reach for their best.

His caring, however, has extended beyond the classroom and the school day. Many an April vacation trip to France has been made more memorable and enjoyable because of his acting as a chaperone. Countless hours were spent coaching track and acting as a class advisor. Most importantly, for the past eighteen years, Mr. Annaldo has been actively involved with the Student Council. He has helped council members sell popcorn at football games, organized and manned the Student Council table for the Christmas bazaar, and entertained at dances by telling guys to "just grab a chick and dance."

Long after we are gone, Mr. Annaldo will be remembered as a wonderful teacher and human being. As classes leave Littleton High, Frank Annaldo's resounding laugh, carefree spirit, and examples of caring will remain always. The senior class is proud to dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Annaldo.

Student Life

Spirit Week

Spirit Week, designed by Student Council for all students in grades seven through twelve, not only picks up our morale after the doldrums of winter, but builds school and class spirit with a week of fun.

Each grade decorates their own hall according to a theme voted on by the whole grade. Highlites for 1989 included Christmas, an Old Folks home, Wild West, the Beach, and the winning hall of the seventh and eighth graders, the jungle.

For three days of the week a specific style of dress would highlite a contest. The first day was Sunday Best which was taken by the Class of 1989 in their "church" clothes. The second day, one of color, the Class of 1992 won by demonstrating their class spirit in shining green glory. Lastly, clad in cowboy hats and spurs, the Class of 1990 won the hall theme day.

Capping off the week were two afternoons of athletic competition among the classes. Students and faculty cheered for lively volleyball, softball, and gatorball matches, as well as laughed together at a round of Simon Says. But, in true climactic fashion, the team of Alex Olsen, Kathy Turner, Anne Robinson, Debbie Pierce, Sherri Banks, Kevin Hamm, Jason Truscott, and Rick Wetherbee dragged their opponents down in a tug-of-war contest that was settled after the final bell of the week rang.

Grease

Participating in Grease, whether as a director, actor, or stage person, definitely became an experience that was not to be forgotten. Few of us really knew what we were getting into on those first days of enthusiastic sign ups or jittery tryouts! We soon found out though - the tedious repetition of lines, songs, and scenes, over and over, until they seemed meaningless, and those long Sunday rehearsals. But finally, just when we thought it'd never work out, it all fell together, almost magically. Songs like "Those Magic Changes" and "We Go Together" became a reality for the play and for us. Opening night, the curtains parted, the lights came on, and we, after all that work, became the vividly wild characters of Grease.

A seat in the audience where everything could be taken in and absorbed was the place to be for Grease. The overall enthusiasm coming from the cast absolutely lit up the room. Lines said with flair, dances executed perfectly, and songs belted out with pure feeling and conviction added to the electricity flowing through the room, bonding the hard-working cast and the anticipated crowd. In complete awe of the amateur company, the audience sang what they knew, swayed to the melodies, tapped their feet, and plainly rock 'n' rolled, completely caught up in the world of the T-Birds and the Pink Ladies. Who in the auditorium that night could forget Dinh Tran's "Those Magic Changes" or the harmony of "We Go Together" from the entire company? The coordination of "Born to Hand-Jive" and "Beauty School Drop-out," sung by Mark Johansen, and "You're the One That I Want" from the "Sandy" of the evening and Brian Poitras will always stay fresh in our minds. And the ultimate number, of course, had to be Erik Tratnyek's portrayl of "Rump" and his bottom's moment in the spotlight during "Mooning." All in all, the cast gave the audience some real Highlites, and because of the Littleton Junior-Senior High School students and faculty, the audience left the auditorium with a song on their lips.

Goodbye To Romance

The Sloboda sisters, Danya and Kara, are ready, finally.

The queen, Beth Turchan, and her date, Jason Truscott.

"Goodbye to Romance" played as Queen Beth Turchan and her court, Heidi Anderson, Anna-Marie Blinn, Jen Cooney, and Pam McGivern, danced with their dates capping off a beautiful and enchanting 1989 prom. Memories now return of fellow students taking center stage to perform their version of "Wild Thing," of Sara and Poity giving the last live performance of "Grease," and of our dancing to "Heard It Through the Grapevine."

May 5, 1989, the Class of 1990 held the Junior Senior Prom at DiBurro's in Ward Hill. The room, in varying shades of pink, left a lasting impression for all that attended. The magical evening was full of romance as couples slowly danced to music by "New Life." As the evening ended, thoughts of the last few hours were but a wonderful, vivid memory that all would never forget.

Winter Cotillion 1990

Wally Zeissig, Kim Tran, and Julie Jackson

The Class of 1990 sponsored the third annual Christmas Cotillion on the ninth of December 1989. Happily, it was a huge success as everyone danced to the sounds of the DJ who played everything from "Rock Around the Clock" to "Rock Lobster." The night finally came to a close at midnight, pleasantly ushering the holiday spirit into Littleton Junior Senior High.

The Class of 1990 would especially like to thank Miss Lordan for all her help in both the planning and the organizing of this year's Cotillion. Without her guidance, it would not have been as great a success.

The "89" Tiger baseball season was a 50-50 affair. The season started on a down note with back to back losses to West Boylston and Narraganset on two cold and dismal spring days. A home win against Westford lifted spirits only to have them dashed with a 20-6 drubbing at Westford. The low point of the season had to be Quabbin away where we out hit the opponents 8-6 but lost 20-6. Wins over Groton, Maynard, and Ayer brought our record back to 6 and 6, but a tough loss to Quabbin 9-6 and league champ Lunenburg 8-5 made reaching the districts impossible. We finished the season with a 14-3 romp over Groton, a 3-3 squeaker over Maynard, and a tough 10-8 loss to Lunenburg. The final record: 9 wins and 9 losses.

Team standouts were Craig Wright, .429 BA, and league all-star Ron Farrar. Members of the class of '89 who left the team with the close of the season included Ron Farrar, Jamie Corbett, Dave Gravlin, Chris Holka, Bill Holt, and Sean Kenney.

Key members of the Class of '90 contributed to the season in various ways. Frank Hall not only helped out in the outfield and contributed a couple of nice hits and a key R.B.I., but also showed improvement in ability and team spirit. Kevin Hamm demonstrated versatility by providing a power bat, being second in doubles and key RBI's, and tieing for team lead in sacrifices.

Dave Atkins, Tom Gosson, Mark Ogilvie, Marc Perdue, Bryan Truscott, and Craig Wright provided highlites for the Class of '91 with their outstanding efforts for the season. Dave Atkins was a pleasant surprise both performing solid defense in the outfield and hitting his way to a .333 average as well as tieing for the team lead in triples. Dave also stole 11 bases! Tom Gosson showed excellent defensive skills and great potential to be a strong hitter. In fact, he hit the longest hit ball of the season in the last game to help the team reach their desired goal of a .500 record! Also showing great potential for next season, Mark Ogilvie had a picture perfect left handed swing, Marc Perdue hustled for six stolen bases and tied for team lead in sacrifices, and Bryan Truscott mastered second base. Craig Wright was an all-league all-star leading the team in hits, singles, triples, walks, the least strike outs - only 2, stolen bases, the highest batting average, .456, and tieing for lead in sacrifices. Craig willingly took on the job of catcher providing a stop to opponents' base stealing. His mental toughness will certainly highlite this team in the next two seasons!

Returning from a 1-11 record from the previous year, the '89 varsity softball team quadrupled their scores and finished with an accomplishment - a record of 4-7. Although at first they didn't know our names (hey you in the red sweats!), hard work by first year coaches Joe Knox and "Schweiger" made us keep our "heads in the game" and win together as a team. As a result, the team wore our blue and gold polyester proud, and hopefully next year we can do even better!!

The membership of the girls' track team was small as it has been in the past few years at LHS, but one highlight shone upon us. Our coach Amy Roth took us through the trials and tribulations every team should have the opportunity to experience. Amy, as a former LHS track member herself, had achieved great goals in the discus and relay. The determination which allowed her to accomplish all that she did was always extended brightly toward our team.

The '89 spring season highlighted sophomore athletes Rachella Soracco, who advanced to both the District E Championships and the State Qualifying Meet in the 800 meter run, and Katie Sheehan, who tackled the fine art of the high jump. The team sadly said good-by to Class of '89 members Leanne Leonardo, a challenger of the 100 yard dash, and miler Carol Tuttle. With new members Roma Soracco, Joanna Kotze, Michele Slattery, Alyce Gowdy-Wright, and Deanna Freitas, we looked forward to a new season to discover so many of the wonderful qualities track brings out in an athlete.

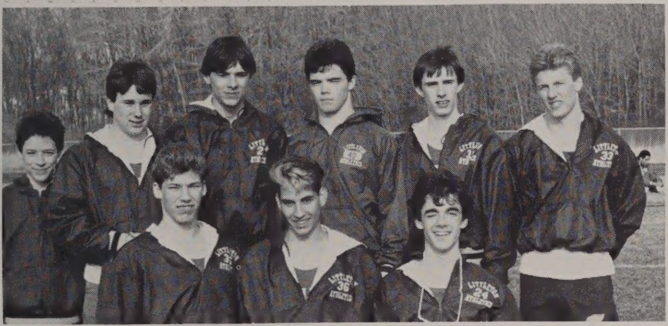
Track



The boys' track team had a major comeback for the spring 1989 season. Nine members came from all four grades to form the first team since the '87 season. Coach James Penny led them to two victories, a tri-meet at our own track, beating both Nashoba Tech and Bromfield Academy. Most noted during this season was Raymond Galloni, who continually broke school records in the high jump competition, and later went on to place first in the Bay State Games.

However, the '89 season was not just hard work. A favorite game among the team was to guess their time for a quarter mile run. After they were timed, if they had guessed correctly, they could make the rest of the team do something outrageous. One such time, Andy Bradshaw correctly guessed two minutes for his quarter-mile run, and he had the team skip around the track wearing only their shorts, chanting, "Andy is awesome." All in all, the season was a success for the boys' track team.

Tennis

The nine members of the girls' tennis team, under the coaching of Peter Marr, were eager to get the '89 season off to a good start. In the '88 season they were only able to play one match because they entered into the season late.

During the '89 season they played a full schedule. On sunny days the girls walked up to the courts behind the Park and Recreation building. When the weather was bad, the practices were moved to the Westford Tennis Club.

Practices only lasted a couple of hours but a lot was accomplished. They began first with the basics, forehands and backhands, and then slowly moved into serving. Once these were accomplished, they were ready to play actual matches against each other in preparation for the opposing teams. One technique the girls will not forget is "move your feet and keep your racket back."

Each match was filled with nervousness and excitement. Added to this was the frustration of a player missing an easy shot. Although the beginning of the season was shaky, by the end all the girls had improved. And even though no matches were won, personal goals were achieved.

Sports Highlites

Sports Recognition Nights recognize athletes' achievements throughout the previous season. The '89 season Spring Sports Recognition Night was a great success and many received accolades for their accomplishments.

Softball awards were presented by coach Joseph Knox and Jeffrey Schweiger to Sarah Broughton ('90), Steph Knox ('90) and Michelle Arrison ('89) in recognition of their hard work, time, and effort. Craig Wright ('91), Chris Holka ('89), and Ron Farrar ('89) were praised by coaches Fred Fitzpatrick and Glenn Legault for leading the team in pitching, hitting, and achieving Wachusett League All-Stars status.

Coach Peter Marr honored tennis stars Susan Atkins ('90), Simone Arlt ('89), and Silvia Folsing ('89) as leaders in their own court of play. Recognized by coach Amy Roth Moses in the demanding sport of track were Katie Sheehan ('91) and Leann Leonardo ('89). Boys' track runners Brendan Collins ('89) and Brendan Thompson ('92) were commended by coach James Penney for their investments of time and hard work.

Soccer

The 1989 Boys' Soccer season was a season of extreme highs and bitter disappointment. One of the first highs of our season was the first Groton-Dunstable game, which was on our home field. In this game, we found ourselves down 2-0; but, with a tremendous team effort, we scored three goals in the final three minutes, pulling off the win and, at the same time, thoroughly demoralizing them. Then, there was the Hudson game. Earlier in the season, we allowed ourselves to be beaten by this team, but the second time around, we gave them a payback, 3-0.

For the second straight year, we qualified for the state tournament. Unfortunately, St. Mary's got "blessed" by scoring the lone goal of the game in the closing minutes, hence "bitter disappointment." The graduating seniors would like to wish the 1990 Boys' Soccer team good luck in their upcoming season. Hopefully, they'll have another shot at St. Mary's.

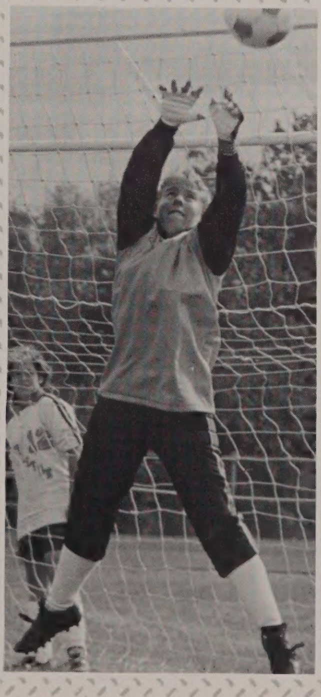
Coaches Maxine Meilleur and Jodi Brush give a half-time pep talk.

The 1989 Girls' Soccer season will be remembered not only for the out of the way bus routes to the away games, but more importantly for its victories. The varsity team broke a Littleton record by ending the season with eight wins, eight losses, and two ties. Of the last four games, all were wins. The Tigers proved themselves to the rest of the league.

Unfortunately, seven of the varsity players were seniors; their spirit, enthusiasm, and knowledge of the game will be missed. All of the team members, including these seniors and the coach Maxine Meilleur, helped to make the fall of 1989 a memorable soccer season.

Jodi Brush, as well as helping out with the varsity team, also coached the first girls' junior varsity team in LJSHS's history. By concentrating on teamwork, each player improved after two months of hard playing and arduous practices. All of this work paid off; JV finished first in the league, with a record of seven wins, three losses, and one tie. Unfortunately, there were no championships; perhaps in the years to come, with the help of these players, there will be.



Karen Masson, Laura Demetrick, Nancy Murdock, Julie Tratnyek, Liz Dixon, and Leigh Dungey enthusiastically cheer on the varsity team.

Due to the constant rain and unpredictable weather, we had an interesting Field Hockey season. Many of our games were postponed, and as a result, we had to play them at the end of the season. It's hard to keep spirits up when there are four games in a week, but our captains, Sarah Broughton and Kathy Turner, did their best to keep us going.

With our exciting entry in the Mid-Wachusett League, this season was a good one for us. Although we didn't make it to the state tournament, we still played hard and well. We have many good memories of fun times, and they will be remembered forever. Even though next year's team promises to be a good one as well, we will definitely miss the help of our seniors.

We would like to thank Mr. Silva again for giving us so much of his time, effort and love; we also would like to wish good luck in the future to the graduating seniors.

Cross Country

Ben Benoit, Brendon Thompson, Steve Dunn, Ray Galloni, Rachella Soracco, Nathan Cantino

The Littleton Cross Country Team had its best season in many years. Though hurt by lack of depth, the team produced an impressive performance in every meet. The Tigers were led by senior Ben Benoit, who placed either first or second in all nine dual meets. Ben was named to both the Midland-Wachusett League All-Star Team and the Massachusetts District II All-Star Team. Sophomore Brendon Thompson also had an excellent season. He placed in the top ten at the League Meet, and also participated in the District II race. Junior Rachella Soracco placed consistently well all season as Littleton's lone female competitor. Ray Galloni, also a junior, always gave a strong effort and is looking forward to a record-breaking high-jumping season in Spring Track. Senior Steve Dunn is a dedicated individual who showed drastic improvements all season. Eighth graders Mike Allan and Nathan Cantino gained a season of valuable experience and show great potential. In the future, Coach Peter Marr will be hard pressed to produce team that will accomplish nearly as much as these seven athletes.

They're off! It's the beginning of the 2.5 mile race.

Organizations

Outdoor Club

Advised by the irreplaceable Mr. Fitzpatrick, the Outdoor Club involves a small group of students exploring and enjoying nature. Whether or not our expeditions get underway, we always have fun planning them.

Earlier this year we based a field trip on an excerpt from the book Ceremonial Times and went foraging in the acres of woods near Beaver Brook. Dressed in our outdoor attire, we collected acorns, dug wild carrots, learned how to survive on pignuts, and even fashioned "gaffs" from branches with our jackknives in an attempt to spear fish. The experience was unforgettable! Nonetheless, we could not forget our cameras and Diet Coke; and our crabapple-acorn muffins never came to be.

Cross-country skiing, canoeing, hiking, and mudwalking in Beaver Brook are just a few of the other activities we enjoy doing as a group. Perhaps, with some courage, we will even try our hands at an exhilarating handgliding lesson or a thrilling whitewater rafting expedition!

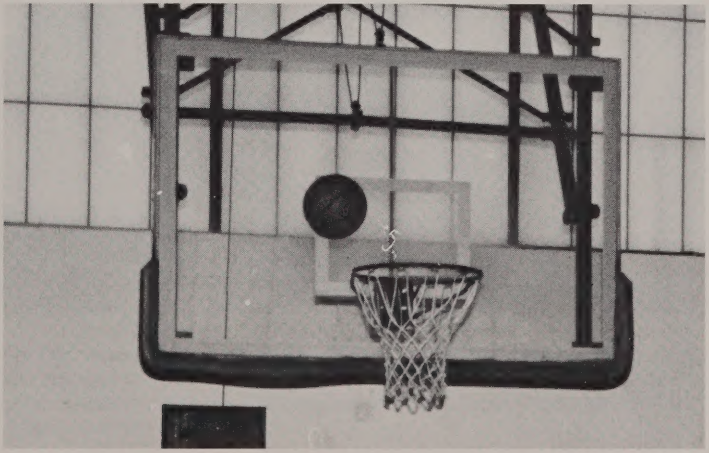
A moment of excitement during an intramural game: Will the basketball go in?



The seventh and eighth grade intramural program is an excellent opportunity for us to have fun with our friends while learning how to play a variety of sports. This year, the sports being played include international handball, floor hockey, basketball, and football.

After having signed up for a sport, participants are divided into three teams, with anywhere from seven to twelve people on a team. Each week, three games are played with the teams rotating each game.

Without the assistance of Mr. Pizza and Mr. Legault, this fine program would not be able to commence. Because of their time and effort spent to keep intramurals alive, we offer them our thanks. We would also like to thank Robert Tuttle for his fine job of refereeing the various sports.

Student Council

Student Council 1990 welcomes the New Decade with a strong desire for school improvement.

Sponsoring the Homecoming weekend was the first of many activities organized by the student council. The festivities began with the customary Friday afternoon pep-rally followed by a decisive victory in Saturday's football game. As usual, the Homecoming Queen and her court were presented flowers from the council. That evening, representatives hosted the first of many dances held throughout the year.

Shortly after this eventful weekend, one appointed class delegate attended a student council seminar at Northbridge Jr. Sr. High School. This conference was held in hopes of informing surrounding area student councils of the happenings of different organizations. This is just one of the ways our council attempts to bring fresh ideas into our school programs.

The Christmas bazaar brightens every Christmas season, and our council was not to be left out. All members worked different shifts during the day selling various decorations to enhance everyone's celebration. Hours later, the council cooked up a Lasagna Supper as a fundraising tactic. Finally, the highlight and pride of the year's group is the preparation of the school store. We hope to open it before the close of school in June to offer convenience and service to all.

In these ways, the student council continues to strive for both growth and change whenever it is necessary to improve the school.

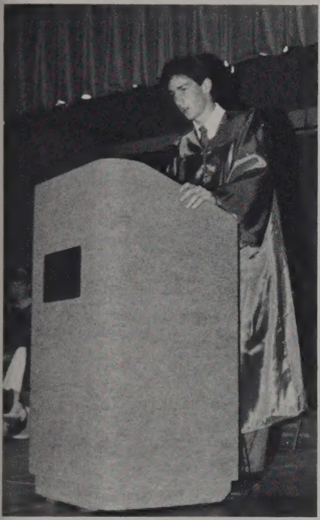
The National Honor Society candlelight induction ceremony.

National Honor Society

President Matthew McWilliams gives a short speech during the NHS candlelight ceremony.



This fall, the members of the Littleton Chapter of the National Honor Society, organized by Mrs. Shannon Webster, were inducted at an elaborate candlelight ceremony. First, the candles in the candelabra were lit one at a time by the NHS officers: Matt McWilliams, Kenji Takahashi, Susan Atkins, and Stephanie Knox. After having lit a candle, the officer then gave a short speech about one of the four virtues that the Honor Society student must possess: leadership, service, character, and scholarship. Juniors and seniors then received their membership cards and pins, as well as the customary roses for the girls and a rose and a matchbox car for the boys. Later in the ceremony, Mr. Vincent Franco presented Anna-Marie Blinn with the Superintendent's Award.

National Honor Society members have distinguished themselves as scholars by maintaining a B average and by earning a certain number of honor points. In order to remain in the society, this quality of performance must be maintained. National Honor Society's plans for this year include participation in the Boston Walk for Hunger and a late spring excursion into Boston. The grand finale for the National Honor Society will be its annual spring banquet, at which all of the members will be honored.

Orange. As we look around, all we see is orange. Yearbook editors' lives are filled with this color: orange grease pencils, orange photo croppers, orange rulers. By now, we are all sick of orange.

Yet, that is not all. There are mountains of forms with which to plan the book and another mountain of forms on which everything must be typed. And one must not forget the ever-popular ladder diagram (the yearbook editors' best friend) which continually floats around the room.

As we near the end, the Highlites staff begins to scramble. All-nighters are not uncommon, while sitting Indian style on the floor seems to be normal. We never thought that it would come to this during all of those hours of training at various yearbook camps and workshops!

This year's staff has been through some rough times, like cramming to meet deadlines and trying to remember what exactly Vladimir Horowitz did (thanks Louise, Laura, and Sarah!); however, there have been some wild moments that none of us will forget.

This year's editors would like to thank Mrs. Chaple, the yearbook advisor, mostly for putting up with us, and Mr. John Neister, our Jostens representative. Also, thanks to Mike Estepp for always being ready with his camera. Thanks to our staff for all of the help that they've given us. Thank you Mr. Walker for editing the senior writeups so quickly. Also, the copy writers deserve special thanks, as well as the club advisors who arranged for candids and articles and the sports coaches who helped to write articles. And, of course, this book would have been a lot smaller if it had not been for the people who donated pictures. Thank you all!

Business Club

The Littleton Junior Senior High School Business Club, advised by Mr. Paul Rocheleau, consists of about 15 students. This group aims to improve the business sense of its members by increasing their confidence, teaching them about a multitude of business jobs, organizing fundraisers, and helping the community.

In order to find out about different jobs that are available in the business world, the organization went on a field trip to the John Hancock building where the members learned about various secretarial and business careers. As well as this field trip, guest speakers from colleges have come to discuss the openings that are and will be available to the people who continue in business.

Besides working to improve their own knowledge, the members of the business club also work to help the community. They realize that to succeed in business, it is necessary that the surrounding environment is content too. With the money raised from fundraising, namely candy and T-shirt sales, this organization donates to worthy causes, like the Beacon Santa. Some of this money is also used for a scholarship that goes to a graduating senior. On top of all this, this club also organizes a luncheon for all of the secretaries throughout the school system for Secretary Appreciation Week. Throughout the year, the business club works hard to improve itself and the community through these diverse methods.

Peer Leadership

Peer Leadership is a program composed of a group of ninth to twelfth graders interested in learning about alcohol and other drugs so that they can, in turn, pass the information on to the sixth and seventh graders. This year, the topics AIDS and STD have been added to the program. The peer leaders' goal is to provide these younger students with skills needed to make responsible decisions when faced with the pressures of growing up. It is a very positive program; one that forces students to examine their own values and accept themselves. They are taught assertiveness and other refusal skills that will enable them to resist peer pressure.

In November, the group escaped for a fun-filled weekend retreat. The purpose of this trip was to bring old and new peer leaders together by creating trust, friendship, the sharing of ideas, relaxation, and a natural high without drugs or alcohol. The leaders were able to get to know each other better in a team effort so that they could have a more cohesive year.

A professional group of actors, called the Improbable Players, will help train the peer leaders in improvisational skills. These actors, recovering from their own drug problems, will share with the peer leaders their experiences and dramatic abilities. With this training, the peer leaders hope to put on a performance for parents and the sixth and seventh graders sometime in the spring. The Peer Leadership program is very effective because students will listen to their peers more readily than they will listen to adults.

Donna Jewett, Julie Jackson, Jon McCumber, Brendon Thompson, Heather Nelson, and Jen Poulin use teamwork to form a pyramid.

We can't turn back the hands of time, and we'll never be Freshmen again, but most of us won't miss hearing the boos at the pep rallies. We have survived our first year at the high school and have collected memories not soon to be forgotten. The Littleton Class of '93 was synonymous with skaters and Vision Street Wear. The halls echoed with groans over algebraic equations and geometry. Everyone had fun designing posters and sheets in Genny Butler's garage for the Thanksgiving pep rally, only to find out no decorations were allowed. Our Christmas fair raised money for our bankrupt treasury. We attended our first Christmas Cotillion and could only look forward to our prom. Over the years all of us will change, but our memories of ninth grade won't.

In our second year here, we seem to fit into the groove of things much better. We're accepted more, we know the routine, and we're now the ones to show someone else the ropes. As our seniority grows, we earn many more privileges and advantages. We cheered for the football team, whose record improved from last season with help from the athletes of our grade. The soccer team, keeping up with its outstanding record, entered states with some of our star soccer players at the head of the pack.

Although we may be the smallest class, we have a very special bond because of it. We've rocked into 90's together with all around favorites like "Bust a Move" by Young MC and "Love Shack" from the B-52's. We've dragged ourselves to the movies countless times, especially to see a new Disney movie "The Little Mermaid" and to have a grand old time at "Look Who's Talking." The Cotillion was an unqualified success, and we're already getting psyched up for next year's evening.

Another year ahead, and we're getting closer to the end of our time here together. Next year looks promising with the 1990 Winter Cotillion and our junior prom. We can only hope that the remaining years are as great as this year has been.

Juniors

The class of 1991. Juniors. We have finally gained the prestigious title of "upperclassmen." Even after 3 years, our spirit hasn't flagged, and we spend our time enjoying ourselves.

So far this year, the junior class has created many memories. We debated where our "most triumphant" prom palace would be, participated in Service with a Smile, and (our most stressful memories) labored over CRITICALS!

In a desperate attempt to improve our financial status, the juniors pulled together and created Service with a Smile. In this fundraiser, members did various odd jobs, such as raking, cleaning windows, vacuuming cars, and stacking lumber; this more than doubled the amount in our treasury.

High School years go quickly, and this class shows promise for the future. We hope that all the fun memories that have been given to us over the years will always be with us.

Class Will

I, Neal Harlow, leave all my late passes and detention slips to Mr. Corbett.

I, Lisa Johnson, leave LH custody of Borris and JD & CH my pom-poms.

I, Terri Finan, leave my brother Chris the best of luck in the next 7 years of school.

I, Dina Foss, leave the L.H.S. forever. Good luck M.P.

I, Kyle DeLegge, leave precinct #1 all my hopes and dreams.

I, Kelly Lorenson, leave Jenn Heald my pinky and the best of luck with everything in the future.

I, Brian Jouris, leave the uncooked lunches to Littleton High School.

I, Angela Geraci, leave John Geraci all the luck & happiness he needs.

I, Michael Vandiford, leave Jen Poulin and Peter Dunn another fun year at L.H.S., to put off their dreams.

I, Jennifer Cooney, leave my sisters Jessica and Jackie all the luck in the world.

I, Steven Dunn, leave the mysteries of the teachers to my younger brother and sister.

I, Anne Robinson, leave with many good memories and leave Eileen & my friends the best of luck.

I, Frank Hall, leave Marc P., Steven T., and Coleen the best of luck.

I, Kevin DeLegge, leave all critical reviews to all the underclassmen.

I, Ramee Holka, leave my treasured cow magnet to S.H.

I, Anna-Marie Blinn, leave my brother to Mr. Foley (or vice-versa) and P.R. lots of luck — she's going to need it.

I, Amy Germain, leave with a diploma!

I, Peter Swords, leave Mr. Spaulding a book of piano exercises so that at least one of us will be able to play my compositions.

I, Steph Knox, leave Kim, Tom, and Jess a bus ride to school.

I, Sarah Broughton, leave Mrs. Beasley all my boxers that she loves so much!

I, Kevin Hamm, leave my brother Kenny.

I, Sherri Banks, leave with something far greater than ever imagined, a baby!

I, Debbie Pierce, leave Pete Dunn in charge of keeping Mrs. Coburn in line!

I, Christina Rothwell, leave all my missing band music to J.C. and J.S. Perhaps they can find it.

I, Kathy Turner, leave Mrs. B. a pack of gum for someone to snap.

I, Ben Benoit, leave the old cross country course to Mr. Spaulding.

I, Steve Freitas, leave Chase.

I, John Lindgren, leave Mrs. Chaple a desk, still sitting sturdy on the floor, well intact.

I, Jason Truscott, leave my unwashed gym clothes to the next kid who has my locker.

I, Dan Oatis, leave LHS knowing that I never read any of the assigned English books.

I, Shawn McDonnell, leave almost fully intact, and none the better for the experience.

I, Louise Leavitt, leave knowing my brother will have to do as much work as I did and I leave Mrs. L a mate for Thrill.

I, Kim Tran, leave Kara to find the Charles River.

I, Laura Harvey, leave Paula someone else to listen to her, and to KS, the best of luck at L/S.

I, Susan Atkins, leave knowing that I will never be able to pass the physical fitness test.

I, Deanna Fair, leave Carolyn Abbott the best of luck in everything she does; Mrs. Beasley my dimple; and Mr. Crowley a better attitude.

I, Laura Lospennato, leave good luck and good times to the Class of '91.

I, Clinton J. Anderson, leave happily knowing I don't have to do anymore critical reviews.

I, Jenny Hellstrom, leave this country to go back to good old Sweden again.

I, Michele Slattery, leave thanks to everyone who made my last two and one-half years of high school at Littleton memorable.

I, Lincoln H. Spencer, leave a hack on the patio, for anyone to use.

I, Wally Zeissig, leave — so don't bother looking for me.

I, Mike Swisher, leave my parking place to the next kid who doesn't have reverse.

I, C. Kenji Takahashi, leave my imagination and paint to the next dude who's radical and has a boring car.

I, Kate Wright, leave never having to play gym again in my life.

I, Julie Jackson, leave knowing Trey Sager has still not named our anatomy cat.

I, Nathan Rigoli, leave my brother the house for his friends to rampage and ransack.

I, Matt McWilliams, leave knowing fully well that I want to leave and a goatee to anybody who might want it.

I, Elizabeth Purcell, leave a case of Diet Shasta Cola to Jeff Wheeler.

I, Anna Morch, leave all my love to Karen.

I, Pam McGivern, leave Caz, Jill, Jenn, Kim, Marc, and Steven the best of luck.

I, Stacy Adams, leave my brother David best wishes for his last 3 years of high school.

I, Rachel Hovasse, leave all my gossip with Missy Philbrick. Good luck!

I, Pam Pickard, leave my sister, Jill, one more year in this place.

I, Beth Turchan, leave my brother and coz patience to deal with LHS for their remaining years.

I, Woody Wodzinski, leave high school knowing that if it wasn't for homeroom, I wouldn't have any of my homework done.

I, Heidi Andersen, leave Mr. Tierney peace and quiet in his study halls.

I, Cheryl Woodward, leave the best of luck to Kristen Wodzinski. Thanks Jim and Jane for everything.

I, Andrea Atkinson, leave my nickname to Mr. Spaulding, France to Mr. Annaldo, my peace symbols to L.H.S., my good luck to C.W., and a Quick Grow pill to cousin Mike.

I, T.C. Bailey, leave the goon squad the best of luck in the rest of their high school years.

I, Patty Tiernan, leave all my sympathy to those who have to return to LHS.

I, Kelly Spencer, leave Leigh a new soccer buddy.

Looking Back

Berlin

Many thought that they wouldn't see it in their lifetimes, yet the miracle fantastically occurred on the 10th of November. The Berlin Wall, representing the separation of East and West Germany, was opened after 20 years of snarling dogs and armed guards. Chipping away at this solid barrier, dancing along the top, or just sitting with thoughts of the past, East and West Berliners alike celebrated for days and nights. Probably the biggest event of the decade, the dismantling of the Berlin Wall brought with it an aura of freedom that united the world for a few rare fleeting moments.

China

In Tianamen Square, Bejing, China, what began as a much-needed protest against the Chinese government escalated into a veritable blood-bath. Government officials opened fire with machine guns and tanks against students and workers. The end result of this slaughter was the establishment of martial law in the Communist nation of China, which, though temporary, was a step backwards towards the warfare of ages past.

Local

Library

On October 22, 1989, the ribbon cutting ceremony to dedicate the new Littleton Town Library was held. Years of planning the move from the historical Houghton Memorial building to the Shattuck Street School had succeeded in the creation of a wonderfully new and spacious resource center. The three floor library not only has numerous study areas, research rooms, and a special children's reading corner, but also has an entire floor for children's books and well deserved office space for the librarians.

NOCOAL

Nashobans Organized to Conserve Our Air and Life (NOCOAL) was organized by concerned local citizens to stop the construction of a coal-fired power plant. This power plant is to be situated on the aquifer for both Littleton and Ayer. If there were to be an accident, perhaps with a train car filled with ash tipping over, drinking sources would become contaminated and water would have to be found elsewhere. So far, it seems that Patriot Energy is going to have a very difficult time convincing citizens that a coal-fired power plant would be good for the community.

Soviets

For almost two years, a brutal tribal feud has been occurring between two Russian Republics, Armenia and Azerbaijan. This so far has been the most serious incident of internal unrest in the Soviet Union since World War II. Other protests against Russia have also been popping up elsewhere, namely in the Baltic States and in Soviet satellite countries such as Poland and Hungary. The Azerbaijani and Armenian fight is just another example of the continuing upheaval of the Soviet republics in their wish for freedom.

Mikhail Gorbachev and Pope John Paul II meet for the first time; it's a remarkable breakthrough in Soviet life.

The Homeless

espite recent recognition given o the homeless in America, the umbers of people living on the treets continue to rise. More nd more families must find helter in the streets of the cities. Unfortunately, the available acilities to help these refugees re incapable of reducing the umbers. The homeless are a erious problem that doesn't eem likely to go away.

Abortion

After the Supreme Court's ruling in the Webster vs. Reproductive Health Services, Inc. case, the pro-choice and pro-life activists clashed. This decision, giving states the right to restrict abortions, has rearoused the question of society's ethics and the rights of men to control a woman's body. Since then, several states' laws show that the pro-choice movement (allowing abortion to remain legal) is gaining strength.

Flag-Burning

The burning of the American flag, considered a protest against American beliefs, became a controversial issue leading to the Flag Protection Act of 1989. Ruling that this law was unconstitutional, the Supreme Court revoked it while Congress and President Bush clashed over the proposal of an anti-flag burning amendment to the Constitution.

Chilean Grapes

There was a scare in the United States over all fruit from Chile, as two grapes injected with cyanide were found among the imports. After 120 million dollars was spent in safety checking, the US put a quarantine on all Chilean fruit, and America was awakened to safety standards.

NEWS
Events

that were considered the most exciting by the Class of 1990 were the tearing down of the Berlin Wall and the San Francisco earthquake (which interrupted the World Series).

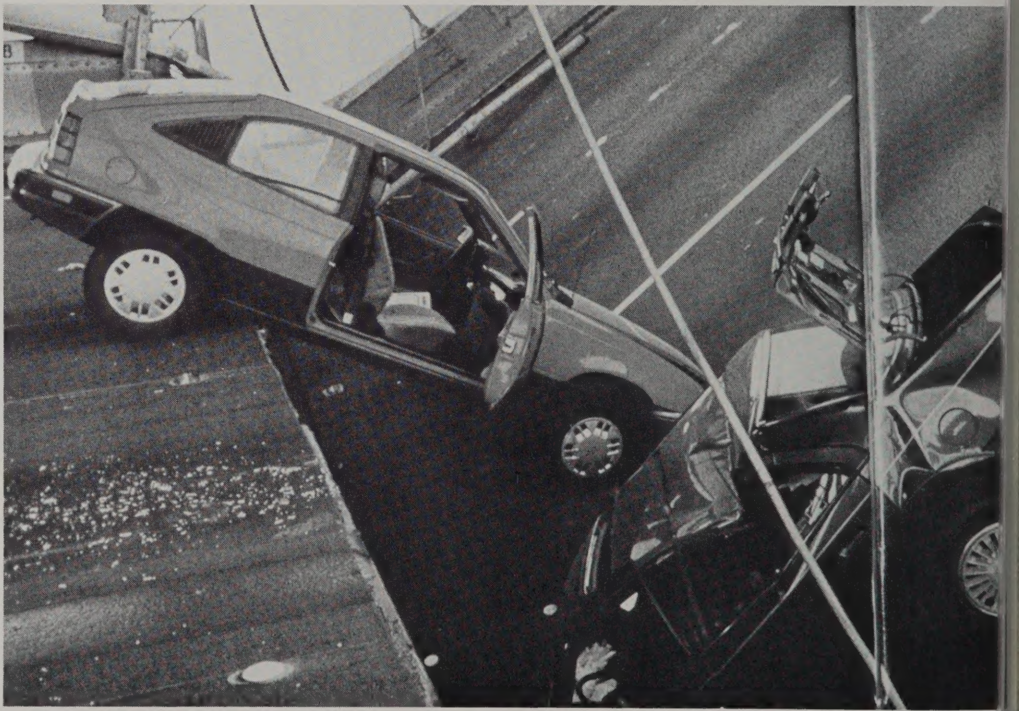
NEWS

Exxon

Over 11 million gallons of oil were spilled on March 24 as an Exxon oil tanker leaked the black sticky substance into Alaska's Prince William Sound. Once known as one of the world's richest wildlife areas, millions of animals died and washed up on shore, their fur and feathers drenched with the thick slime. It will take centuries before this land's beautiful countryside fully recovers.

The Quake

On October 17, America watched as a killer earthquake shook Northern California. The third most lethal quake in U.S. history, its power was first seen in Candlestick Park, San Francisco, as media and fans alike were waiting for the third game of the World Series to begin. The most detrimental effect of the earthquake was the destruction of the Bay Bridge (which connects Oakland and San Francisco) during rush hour. With millions of dollars of property destroyed, with about 100 fatalities, and with the devastating aftershock for the people of California, this disaster can be seen as either a terrifying indication of what is to come when the "Big One" strikes or, hopefully, a stabilizing of the earth's crust.



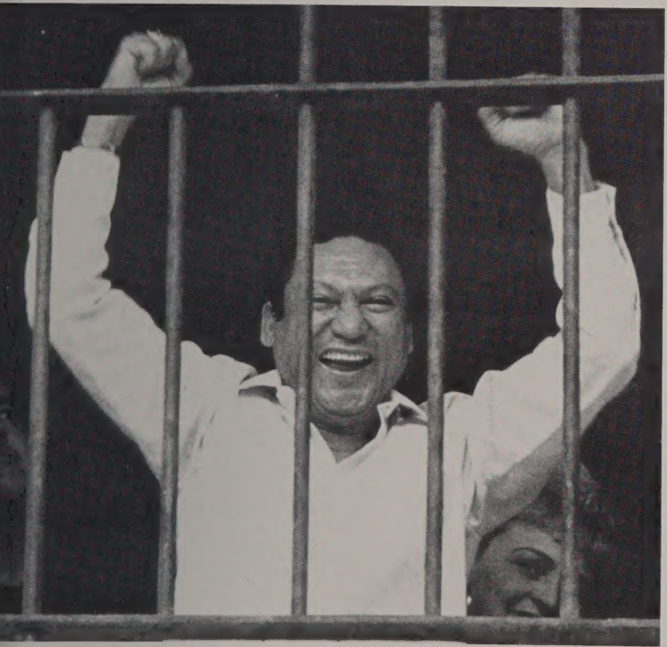
Hugo

For five days in September, Hurricane Hugo swept through the Carribean and up the United States east coast with winds of up to one hundred thirty-five miles per hour. With estimated damage reaching about 8 billion dollars, Hugo is said to be the worst hurricane of the decade.

Scandals

Jim Bakker, a television evangelist, and his wife Tammy were finally convicted of using money given to their cause for their own use. After having taken millions from worshippers of God under the pretext that it would be used for good purposes, Jim Bakker actually had the gall to plead insanity. Now, the two of them must spend time repenting for their sins.

Zsa Zsa Gabor was arrested for striking a police officer after he had stopped her for a traffic violation.



After a year of pursuing the Panamanian military dictator Manuel Antonio Noriega, the United States finally trapped him on January 4, 1990. Noriega, who permitted and encouraged the drug cartels to flourish (especially those dealing in cocaine) was responsible for supplying 80% of America's cocaine. By declaring "war" on Panama and sending in American military forces, President Bush succeeded in chasing "Panama's strongman" into the Vatican Embassy in Panama City where he stayed until he surrendered.

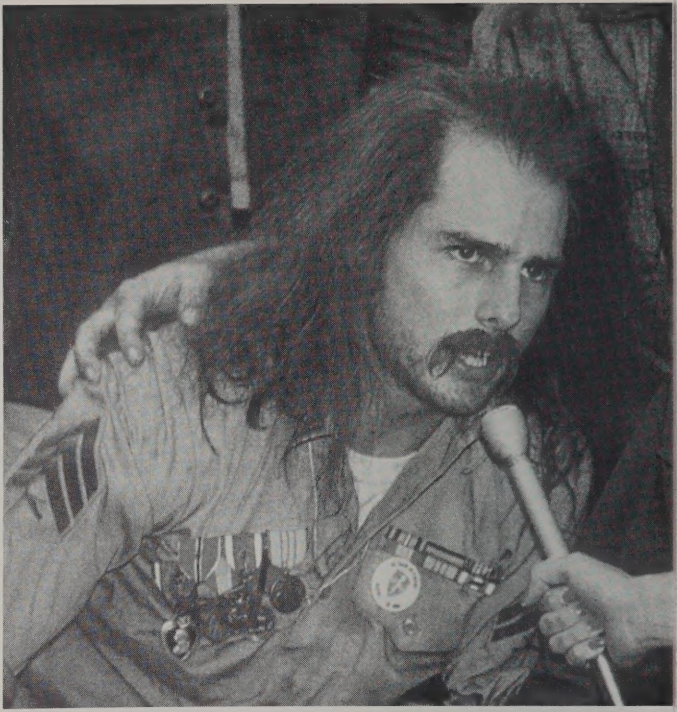
Gambling and lies eventually dethroned baseball's hero Pete Rose. The manager of the Cincinnati Reds was suspected to have bet against his own team, and the question whether or not to suspend him arose. Eventually, in September 1989, Rose was banned for life from the ball club.

Movies

Based on the award winning novel by Ron Kovic, the movie Born on the Fourth of July is the story of an idealistic patriot who, after going to fight in the Vietnam Conflict, is faced with disillusionment when he returns to an anti-war country. Tom Cruise plays the memorable role of the paraplegic veteran struggling to regain respect even though he fought in a lost war.

Batman, the top grossing movie of 1989, was definitely one of the highlights of the entertainment world. Based on the popular Batman comic strip, this movie amuses viewers with the banter between Michael Keaton as Batman and the sexy Kim Basinger as a reporter searching for the scoop behind this hero with wings. Batman fights the evil prevailing in Gotham city and its menacing leader, the Joker, played by the talented Jack Nicholson.

Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade, one of the box-office smashes of 1989, is the exciting story of wild adventure that caught the imagination of summer audiences. The third movie in the enormously popular series which began with Raiders of the Lost Ark and continued with Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom, The Last Crusade was a long-awaited sequel, again starring Harrison Ford as Indiana, the amusing and always successful hero. The movie also broke new ground with the introduction of Sean Connery as Jones' father, making the movie a little more serious and genuine, and making the summer of '89 a little more exciting for all of us.



USS Iowa

Three hundred thirty miles off the coast of Puerto Rico, an explosion in the gun turret of the USS Iowa killed 47 sailors. Ironically, this battleship had made it through both World War II and the Korean War without a single fatality. Believed to have been caused by defective wiring, a damaged firing mechanism, or even a stray spark, this explosion started a new debate over just how useful these old battleships really are in a nuclear age.

Verses

This controversial novel by Salman Rushdie became the subject for banning in Iran. Containing ideas contrary to many of the beliefs of the Muslim faith, The Satanic Verses was outlawed by Ayatullah Khomeini, who then placed a reward on the head of the author, thereby forcing Rushdie into exile and causing him to seek protection from the English government.

Jack Nicholson and Michael Keaton were big hits in the movie Batman.

Khomeini

On June 6, 1989, the body of Ayatullah Khomeini spilled out of its coffin as it passed through crowds of worshippers on its way to the grave. Iranian leader Khomeini was idolized by his followers, and as they attempted to take a last look at him and to tear his clothing for souvenirs, his body fell into the hands of the people below.

France

In 1989, Paris and the world united to celebrate the two-hundredth anniversary of the French Revolution. However, controversy surrounded the festivities as many people wondered why the remembrance of the blood-bath should be celebrated.

Pick-Ups

"Where ya from?"

"Hey babe . . . "

"Haven't I seen you someplace before?"

"Do you want to be my next ex-wife?"

"What's a-happenin' Hot Stuff?"

"What's your sign?"

Say What?

"I've fallen and I can't get up!"

"Ya think ya so great but . . . "

"Art is anything you can get away with"

"I haven't got a clue"

"Oh joy, oh rapture"

Writing

Most people in the class of 1990 preferred the pen to the pencil, while others took to the quill pen dipped in blood.

Late Greats

Bette Davis and Sir Laurence Olivier

Lucille Ball, a comedienne, was best known for her hilarious slapstick routines in the show I Love Lucy. Her death at the age of 77 was a great loss for the entertainment industry.

Bloom County, the extremely popular comic strip by Berke Breathed featuring characters such as Opus and Bill the Cat, was put to rest after eight successful years.

Irving Berlin, great songwriter and entertainer, died at the age of 101. He composed such favorites as "White Christmas" and "God Bless America."

Ted Bundy, convicted serial killer, was finally put to death in the electric chair in Florida. Bundy had tried to appeal this case and to bargain out of it for about ten years.

Salvador Dali, a leading surrealist painter, passed away at the age of 84. He will always be remembered for his works (such as The Persistence of Memory) and his crazily curled mustache.

Secretariat, one of the greatest race horses of all time, died at age 19. This horse achieved his fame by winning the coveted Triple Crown.

Bette Davis, an actress best known for her beautiful eyes and fiery temper, died at the age of 81. Among her movies were Dark Victory and All About Eve.

Andrei Gromyko, a previous Soviet Foreign Minister, died at the age of 79. He lived long enough to see Gorbachev's policies started, but not long enough to see their results.

Emperor Hirohito, born in 1901, successfully ruled Japan for 62 years and brought it to its current state of prosperity.

Abbie Hoffman, stand up comedian, author of Steal This Book, and rebel of the sixties, passed away at the age of 52.

Vladimir Horowitz, an outstanding pianist who emigrated from Russia, amazed audiences everywhere with his skill. Before dying at the age of 86, one of his lifelong dreams was realized when he was able to return to Russia and perform there.

Ferdinand Marcos, former dictator of the Phillippines, died at the age of 72 in his home in Hawaii, to where he had been forced to flee after embezzling millions from his former home country.

Sir Laurence Olivier, an internationally known actor, passed away at the age of 82. He was known for his outstanding Shakespearean performances in Hamlet, Othello, and Henry V.

Gilda Radner, a talented star of Saturday Night Live, was overcome by cancer at the age of 42. Her fans will always remember her through her numerous roles and her best-selling book, It's Always Something.

Who's New

New stars in the entertainment business include sitcom comedienne Roseanne Barr, Pop-rock singer Paula Abdul, and talk show host Arsenio Hall.

Supporters

The codfish lays ten thousand eggs,
The homely hen lays one.
The codfish never cackles
To tell you what she's done.
And so we scorn the codfish,
While the humble hen we prize,
Which only goes to show you
That it pays to advertise.

Sue, always remember Anatomy, Slick, and the "THE" list: THE THE * THE SMITHS * THE CURE * THE POGUES * THE DAMNED * THE PIXIES * THE SEX PISTOLS * THE MIGHTY LEMON DROPS * THE OCEAN BLUE * THE REPLACEMENTS * THE SUGAR CUBES * THE B-52's * THE APARTMENTS * THE RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS * THE FALL * THE DEAD MILKMEN * THE DEAD KENNEDYS * THE SCREAMING HEADLESS TORSOS * THE CALL * THE ALARM * THE CRAMPS * THE VIOLENT FEMMES * THE HOUSEMARTINS * THE CHURCH * THE LIME SPIDERS * THE TEST TUBE BABIES * THE TWIN SETS * THE INDIGO GIRLS * THE SAINTS * THE PSYCHEDELIC FURS * THE ONLY ONES * THE SLAMMIN' WATUSIS * * SINCERELY, PAULA * P.S. YOU'VE GOT FOETUS ON YOUR BREATH*

"If that's how you really want it . . . " -John Neister * Anna-Marie, Thanks for everything this year-it was wild. I'll always remember what we've been through this year, like Thanksgiving weekend at my house, last minute deadline crams (okay, when exactly is the deadline?), getting back proofs, the yearbook picture (we can always crop out everyone else!), THE VERTICAL SENIOR SECTION! I will never forget background art (line-dot-weaves), CLIP ART, our "delinquency", the famous picture of Mrs. Chaple. But anyway, you've taught me to put my layout in columns! (I'll send you some copy to fit, OK?) -Paula

Thank you Mr. Walker & the rest of the faculty for giving me an education comparable to or better than one I could have received at many other schools. After all, how many times would another student receive an office detention for not experiencing all aspects of high school education? Sincerely, Anna-Marie Blinn

Paula — You've said all that can be said (now I look stupid for not having anything to write) so what should I say? Anyway, good luck copy fitting, and don't forget to find someone who can do layout. This way they can rescue you the way you always helped me out in a squeeze (a.k.a. all the time) A.M.
